Fire Marshal Says Ordinances Are "Antique And Out-moded;" Force Him To Rely On "Bluff"

Borough council at its regular meeting at the engine house Monday night referred to its ordinance committee a letter addressed by Fire Marshal Eugene S. Sickles to Burgess William G. Weaver and the council, in which Sickles declared that existing fire ordinances "are old, antique, out-moded . . . and absolutely ineffective."

The letter declared that unless ordinances are revised "to conform with present day circumstances," Sickles would no longer continue as fire marshal.

"I have held the office for more than two years, and in that time I have tried my best to do everything possible to eliminate fire hazards within the limits of this borough, as well as attempt to educate our citizens in the different phases of fire prevention," the letter said.

"Fire Zone" Meaningless

"Fortunately I have had very splendid cooperation from most all persons with whom I have come in contact on my investigations. But in those cases where it has been necessary to threaten, I was forced to use plain old-fashioned 'bluff,' due to the fact that everyone of the fire ordinances now in effect on the ordinance book, which are the only laws under which I can act, are old, antique, out-moded to present day circumstances and standards, and absolutely ineffective. The office of fire marshal is set up wrongly to cope with modern conditions, and the method of compensating the person who carries out the duties that are necessary to do the job right is not beneficial to either the borough or to the fire marshal.

"Time and again I have reported various bad conditions and hazards to the proper state authorities who have the laws and the powers to act, and still the unsightly, dilapidated, and unoccupied structures which I have reported, remain standing in decent residential neighborhoods for all visitors to

FIND COUNTY'S FINANCES IN GOOD CONDITION

Adams county could pay off its gross debt of $78,000 and still have money in the bank, the annual financial report prepared by the county auditors and filed with the county prothonotary and the state department of Internal Affairs reveals.

The auditors, John S. Wolfe, George M. Conover and A. M. Weikert have completed their work begun in January.

The county had during the year a gross debt of $114,000, the financial report shows. A total of $36,000 was paid off during 1949, leaving $78,000. A total of $20,778.71 is available in the sinking fund to meet payments of the interest and principal of the debt at stated intervals, bringing the net debt down to $57,221.29.

"Made" $30,000 In Last Year

Money in the treasury at the beginning of the year that could be applied to the payment of debt totaled $53,056.20, the report showed, leaving approximately $4,000. At the same time however outstanding taxes of $18,437.78 were recorded as of January 3. Approximately $13,000 of that amount has been collected since. If the county could legally pay off all of its debts at the present amount, it would have more than enough on hand to meet the deficit, the report showed.

The county "made" about $30,000 during the year. It started 1949 with a balance of $17,016.18 and ended the year with a balance of $53,056.20 in the county fund.

Actually the county is better off than that, with a total of $179,556.91 listed as the total of balances in the four funds—county, institution district, sinking fund and liquid fuel fund, as of January 3, 1950. The institution district balance was given as $35,217.93 and the liquid fuel balance at $70,504.17. The various funds however are not transferable.

Had To Borrow In '49

Large balances at the end of the fiscal year are necessary, it was pointed out, because the county must operate until the 1950 taxes come in later this year. Last year the county had to borrow money during the "lean period" in order to keep going until new tax funds arrived despite

SAYS OCCUPIED JAPAN NOT IN PERIL OF REDS

"Communism is killing itself in Japan," Lt. Col. Charles S. "Bud" Smith of the U. S. Air Force told Gettysburg Lions in a talk Monday evening after two years of army duty in the Orient.

"They just can't keep up the pace they set with big demonstrations and parades as the first boatloads of repatriated prisoners arrived from Russian-occupied territory," he said. "The crowd of Communists that net each boat was smaller than the one before until finally they gave up the demonstrations and stopped trying to indoctrinate the new arrivals in Red propaganda for their life in Japan."

Col. Smith told of the high esteem in which General MacArthur and his occupation forces are held by the Japanese. "They give excellent cooperation. They do not want the occupation to end yet for they do not feel they are ready to go on alone with democracy."

To Return In June

He told of religious, economic and political effects of the war in Japan and of the problems that were created when six million soldiers were repatriated to a land where two and a half million homes had been destroyed.

He expressed the opinion that "we will do more by working through the Japanese than by taking over and doing everything for them." He told of experiences he had with industrial, educational and religious groups in Japan that demonstrated their interest in the Christian religion, their energy, skill and efficiency and their determination to re-build their once-great nation.

Col. Smith, who plans to return for another tour of duty in Japan in June, is a former Lions district governor. His home is at Dillsburg. He talked to the local Lions last two years ago before he left for Japan after duty at Olmsted Field, Middletown.

President Donald M. Swope presided at the meeting at the Shetter House with Prof. William Duck introducing the speaker. Meetings of the board of directors and a number of committees were held after the general session. The directors voted a $10 donation to the Adams County Crippled Children's society.

The firm submitted the only bid, $1.50 per ton at the bin, $1.75 delivered at the borough shed or $1.85 spread on the streets.

The Exchange club of Gettysburg wrote extending its commendation to the councilmen for their action in ordaining Center square as Lincoln Square.

FIREMEN USE RADIO HOOK-UP AT COUNTY MEET

Radio Station KGA 925, the new short wave three-way setup of the Gettysburg fire department was "on the air" Monday night from Littlestown, with a resume of the proceedings of the Adams County Firemen's association's quarterly meeting in St. Aloysius hall, given by Roger Myers, county secretary, and greetings and remarks from several officials.

Murray Miller was at the "mike" at the central station in the engine house, and Raymond E. Menges was "master of ceremonies" at Littlestown. Richard M. Cole also was "on the air." A wire recording of the program was made at headquarters by Walter B. Lane, and it will be played back to the Gettysburg firemen at their next meeting April 12.

Trooper Speaks

State Policeman L. L. Pryor, who showed arson movies at the Littlestown meetings, was the first one "interviewed." He told of the methods used by firemen and others to determine whether a fire may have been of incendiary origin. "Many fires are set by arsonists in outlying areas to draw the firemen away while more serious fires are set in other sections," he said. "The use of radio equipment puts the arsonist at a distinct disadvantage."

Andrew Myers, president of the York county association, described the use of radio by the West York fire company. He said both a truck and ambulance at the Hanover fire and Saturday morning were in constant communication with their fire station in West York. Saturday

Says Radar Reflectors Hung 100 Mi. Above Earth Possible

Baltimore, April 4 (P)—Shoot up a half-dozen guided missiles, let them hang above the pull of gravity, and there you have it: Radar reflectors that it possible to detect objects anywhere on the surface of the earth.

That's not Bobb Rogers talk. It was cited as a definite possibility last night by one of the nation's foremost authorities on guided missile developments.

All that's lacking is "money and time," Dr. Charles Green, a missile specialist with the General Electric company, told the Maryland section of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers.

Here is the way he explained it: Shoot a special missile developed from an improved V-2 rocket 100

Council Votes Daylight Time

The Gettysburg borough council took official cognizance of the approaching period of Daylight Saving Time by voting, at the regular March meeting Monday night at the engine house, to advance official borough time one hour.

This means that, while the borough council and borough employees will not be on Daylight time, they will hold meetings and go to work an hour earlier, in conformity with "fast time."

Beginning April 30 and continuing until September 24, council meetings will be held an hour earlier, borough employees will go to work an hour earlier and parking meters will be in operation from 9 a. m. to 7 p. m. instead of 8 a. m. to 6 p. m.

FR. J. A. BRADLEY GIVES HOLY WEEK TALK TO ROTARY

"The atom bomb, the hydrogen bomb, the cold war, all are interesting, but these things will pass away. God remains and our immortal souls remain," the Rev. Fr. Joseph A. Bradley, assistant pastor of St. Francis Xavier Catholic church here, told the local Rotary club Monday evening.

Retelling the story of the passion and death of Christ at the annual Holy Week program of Rotary in the YWCA, the Rev. Fr. Bradley noted, "The truths and the lessons contained in the passion and resurrection of Christ are valid now and will be valid forever."

Speaking of the events of Holy Week nearly 2,000 years ago, the local priest pointed out: "No human being has ever suffered as Christ did. The fact that He was not only man but God made the suffering more intense than any mere mortal could know. He knew in advance what would happen. He knew He would be spared nothing. Not only would His enemies crucify Him, but His friends would betray and desert Him."

List Nominations

"In Gettysburg, His anguish reached a peak, for His human nature rebelled at the prospect ahead. Christ's suffering was intensified by the fact that He knew that His death, and suffering would not cause sin to vanish from the earth, but that man would continue to be sinful. And all the time He could have ended the agony, at any moment. He could have bent asked and a host of angels would have come to His rescue. Yet for the love He bore mankind He went through to the death to atone for the sins of man against God."

President William G. Weaver presided at the meeting with 52 present. The nominating committee, James S. Cairns, Edmund W. (Please Turn to Page 7)

WINS DAMAGES IN POISON CASE

Arthur F. Hardman, of near Emmitsburg, was awarded $531 by a Frederick county jury Monday evening in his suit to recover damages alleged to have resulted when three of his cattle died after eating poisonous substances disposed of on a dump on the Hardman property by Francis S. K. Matthews, Emmitsburg business man.

Hardman testified that he had given Matthews permission to haul some junk from the latter's premises to a quarry hole on the farm in 1948. Later one cow and six steers were taken ill and three died, he said. Hardman claimed Matthews was the only person who used the dump.

His attorney read an agreed statement of facts concerning examinations of stomach samples from one of the cattle and a substance taken from the quarry. These statements to which veterinarians who made tests would have testified had they been present, were to the effect that the samples contained arsenate of copper and undoubtedly caused the illness of the cattle and the death of three of them.

Hardman claimed he found some of the poisonous substance lying against an empty syrup jar in the dump. He also exhibited part of what he said was a burned bag which had contained the substance.

An automobile operated by Charles A. Rippeon, 31, of Littlestown R. 1, crashed into a parked car owned by Curtis W. Sanders, Littlestown R. 1, at Two Taverns about 9:30 p. m. Monday night, according to a state police report.

A truck operated by Harry A. Spalding, 48, of Gettysburg R. 1, was backing out from a store at Two Taverns, police said. Spalding saw Rippeon's car approaching from the west, and stopped. Rippeon swerved into the parked automobile, doing $150 damage to his own vehicle and $100 to the Sanders car. No one was injured.

SUFFERS HEART ATTACK

William F. Codori, of York, formerly of Gettysburg, suffered a severe heart attack at 4 o'clock Sunday morning and was removed to the York city hospital.

Despite the protests of several businessmen, residents and taxpayers of Gettysburg against the new ordinance setting up one-way streets and limiting parking on several of them to one side only, borough council at its regular meeting Monday night in the engine house made no changes in the ordinance, and they will go into a 60-day trial period beginning May 1.

After hearing the protests, Borough President H. M. Oyer asked council whether it desired to take any action.

"I don't want to discuss it at all," Councilman Fred Hummelbaugh, chairman of the safety committee, said. "We've discussed it twice. It is only reasonable to give it a trial. We have had complaints, but we've got to consider the good of the most, not the few."

Many Objectors

The one-way streets, after May 1, will be East High street, east-bound only; Stratton street north-bound only from High street to Lincoln avenue; Washington street south-bound only from Lincoln avenue to Steinwehr avenue; Breckenridge street west-bound and South street east-bound.

Parking would be restricted to one side on all or parts of East High, Breckenridge, South, Stratton, Liberty, East and West Middle, North and South Washington, and Steinwehr avenue.

Among those who voiced their dissatisfaction with all or parts of the new ordinance were S. Lester Scott, North Stratton street car dealer; Glenn Guise, manager of the Adams County Motors, York and Liberty streets; A. E. Hutchison, H. and H. Machine shop and automobile sales and service, South Washington street; Merle Hankey, South Washington street grocer; C. G. Wagner, manager of the Keystone Garment company, North Stratton street; John Millard, Victor Products corporation, North Washington street; Earl Wineman, dispatcher, Greyhound Bus company, North Washington street; N. O. Sixes, furniture and appliance store, Chambersburg and South Washington streets, and Earl Smith, garage and radiator repairs, South Washington street.

Fears Loss Of Business

"If we have one-way traffic on South Washington street I am afraid people won't stop, and I will lose business. I don't see enough congestion on this street to justify council's action," Mr. Hankey, the first speaker, said.

He was followed by Mr. Smith, who said he had traveled Washington street for 30 years and never had any trouble getting through. Mr. Wineman said he had discussed the ordinance with his superior in

NAVY DENIES NEW "FLYING SAUCER" STORY

Washington, April 4 (AP)—The Navy says, in comment on the latest flying saucer report: (1) It has not developed any pancake-shaped jet planes and (2) it is not experimenting with any saucer-shaped missile.

In fact, the department reported through a spokesman, the nearest thing to a flying saucer it ever developed has not flown since 1947.

The spokesman was commenting last night on an article in U. S. News and World Report which said engineers have concluded that the oft-reported saucers are jet-powered planes of a new design developed by the Navy. The magazine said the saucers may have sprung from experiments by Charles H. Zimmerman for the National Advisory Committee for Aeronautics (NACA).

Credited To Navy

At Langley Air Force base in Virginia, Zimmerman said he worked on an experimental pancake-shaped model plane during the war—this was the one the Navy said flew last in 1947—but he didn't regard it as a forerunner to the flying saucer. To conclude that it was, he said, was "obviously the wrong conclusion."

NACA officials said the model Zimmerman developed later became a Navy craft known as the XP5U, or "flying pancake." The Navy said a full scale experimental model never got off the ground.

Radio Commentator Henry J. Taylor said last night that many "flying saucers" really are U. S. controlled jet fighter planes. On his ABC broadcast he referred to the XP5U. He called it a Navy experimental fighter of "incredible speed." It looks and is shaped like a pancake, Taylor said.

Armed "Red" Gangs Work Black Market

Frankfurt, Germany, April 4 (AP)—Heavily armed smuggling gangs from Communist eastern Europe states are doing a huge black market business in western Germany in a Soviet-sponsored effort to wreck its economy, according to western officials.

The officials estimated that these Communist-run gangs, along with other international gangs from western Europe, are flooding the area with tax-evading goods worth $500,000,000 a year.

The eastern gangs, said the officials, are slipping out of western Germany about $400,000,000 worth of vital industrial equipment—mostly ball bearings, optics, fine machinery and steel tubing needed for industrial expansion programs in Russia and her satellite countries.

"The Soviets are behind all the smuggling operations between eastern Europe and west Germany," one allied officer reported.

CONNIE MACK SEES 5-WAY LEAGUE FIGHT

By FRANK ECK

West Palm Beach, Fla., April 4 (AP)—Connie Mack is 87 and still eager for another American league pennant race to get under way. You can't blame him. This is Old Connie's 50th season, his Golden Jubilee, as manager of the Philadelphia Athletics. He is the only manager the A's ever had.

The Old Man, as his players affectionately call him, was caught here just before his A's broke camp. He was wearing a new white panama hat and a healthy look.

"We expect to win the pennant," he said in a clear sharp tone when queried about his team. "Boston, New York, Cleveland, Detroit and the A's will be in a five-team fight for the American league flag.

Fifth Last Year
"Anyone of these five can win it. Remember that. But if the boys feel as I do why we can win this thing. This is a big one for me. I'd like to win it very much."

(Last we forget, last year the A's finished fifth, 16 games behind the champion Yankees. The A's beat the Indians 13 times and lost nine last year for their only advantage over first division clubs.)

"Another thing," reminds Connie, "is the fact that Boston beat us 11 straight in Fenway Park. We beat them almost as regularly in Shibe Park, winning eight out of 11. We're going to rectify that mistake in Boston if it's possible. I just can't figure it out. We used the same pitchers when we could."

Rely On Dillinger
Mack looks for a lot of additional help from Bob Dillinger, American league base stealing champion and third leading batter, and Bob Hooper, who helped hurl Buffalo's Bisons to the International league title.

"Dillinger's speed and hitting will be a big factor," says Mack. "No, he will not run on his own. I don't know where the fellow who wrote that story got his information. Dillinger will play as I see fit, for the best interest of the team. We expect him to be quite an improvement over Hank Majeski."

"Hooper and Dick Fowler were the first to show some real pitching in our West Palm Beach camp. Hooper allowed the Dodgers just one run in his first 11 innings this spring."

Mound Corps "Good"
Connie calls his mound corp a "good staff." Behind 20-game winner Alex Kellner he has two other standout southpaws in Lou Brissie and Bobby Shantz. After Hooper he has Joe Coleman, Dick Fowler and Carl Scheib.

"Our catching is very good," says the man who managed a big league team in 1894 when he piloted Pittsburgh. "Joe Astroth looks like a good hitter though he hit only 243 last year. Back of him are Joe Tipton and Fermin Guerra."

"I consider our infield excellent with Dillinger on third, Eddie Joost at short, Pete Suder on second and Ferris Flinn on first. Barney McCosky looks good and I plan to start him in the opening game. He'll be in left, with Sam Chapman in center and Elmer Valo in right."

George Kavel New Altoona Grid Coach

Altoona, Pa., April 4 (AP)—George Kavel, one time star halfback at Carnegie Tech, is the new football coach at Altoona high school.

The school board named Kavel last night as a successor to Ken Bashore, who resigned last January after 10 years' service. Bashore remains as a member of the faculty.

Kavel graduated from Irwin high school in 1928. His first head coaching job was Tyrone in 1936. He moved to Mt. Carmel high in 1938. In 1942, he joined the faculty at Cornell university and assisted Carl Snaveley, then head coach there. He went to Hazleton high school at the start of the 1943 season. In seven years, with one assistant, he won 43, lost 33 and tied two games.

His best years at Hazleton were 1944, when he won eight and lost three, and 1947, when he won 10 and lost two. He resigned last December as coach but remained on the Hazleton faculty. He is married and is the father of two boys, 14 and 10, respectively.

Baseball Briefs

Durocher Not Worried Yet

San Antonio, Tex., April 4 (AP)—Leo Durocher, manager of the New York Giants, says he isn't worried about the performances turned in by hit pitchers. Not yet anyway.

"But if it keeps up, then I will really worry," he said after three pitchers were bombed for 31 runs in three games. "The fellows are throwing hard and their arms are loose. That's all I'm interested in."

Jensen Impresses Yanks

St. Petersburg, Fla., April 4 (AP)—Jackie Jensen, bonus beauty from the University of California, has begun to make the New York Yankees' brain trust sit up and take notice. A mediocre 196 hitter in 10 previous contests, Jensen cracked out a single, triple and home run yesterday against the Cincinnati Reds. He scored three times.

Hermanski Or Shuba

Houston, Tex., April 4 (AP)—It appears either Gene Hermanski or George Shuba will be in left field for the Brooklyn Dodgers on opening day.

Right now, Shuba is getting more regular duty than Hermanski, the Dodgers' left fielder last season. Shuba has been hitting hard, but it's his ability to pull the ball that endears him with Manager Burt Shotton. A left-handed batter, he could put Ebbets Field's short right field wall to good use this summer.

Red Sox Finished

Sarasota, Fla., April 4 (AP)—Boston's Red Sox have finished their Sarasota springtime exhibition ball games. After an hour and a half workout today they will prepare to break camp and will start their barnstorming trip northward with a game against Jacksonville there tomorrow. It is expected some of the club's "kid" pitchers will be used on the northward trek as all have shown a need for more work.

Wynn Wins Five

San Antonio, Tex., April 4 (AP)—Pitcher Early Wynn and Second Baseman Joe Gordon, two oldtimers, have been performing for the Cleveland Indians on the grapefruit grind with the zeal of a couple of rookies trying to make the team.

Wynn, a big righthander who is 30 and has been in the majors since 1941, has won five starts and hasn't lost one. Yesterday at El Paso he allowed the New York Giants only six hits in seven innings as the Tribe won 5-3.

The 35-year-old Gordon, who came into the bigtime 12 years ago, clouted a 365-foot homer over the centerfield wall with a man aboard.

Hal Has Arm Trouble

Lakeland, Fla., April 4 (AP)—It looks now as though Hal Newhouse's mysterious arm trouble may prevent him from pitching the Detroit Tigers' American league opener. The opener—against Cleveland April 18 this year—has been Hal's private property in the past. However, Manager Red Rolfe is figuring on Freddie Hutchinson or Art Houtteman. He says "it looks like one or the other."

Mack's Patience Short

West Palm Beach, Fla., April 4 (AP)—There will be no dilly-dallying with pitchers who don't produce in games played by the Philadelphia Athletics this year, Manager Connie Mack said today.

"We are not going to be so patient this year with our pitchers," the 87-year-old manager said in outlining the A's new policy.

"In the past it has been impossible for us to take a pitcher out of the game after he walked several men in succession because we would not have another pitcher to put in his place.

"This year things will be different. We still don't have as many pitchers as I would like, but I feel that the nine we will have all will prove themselves capable."

Test For Russ Meyer

New Orleans, La., April 4 (AP)—Russ Meyer puts his fragile elbow to test tonight when he will try to go the full nine innings for the Philadelphia Phillies against the New Orleans Pelicans.

Meyer, one of the big "ifs" in the Phils' plan for 1950, has pitched 14 2/3 innings, allowed 13 runs and given up 18 hits in appearances this spring. However, since treatment on his right elbow several weeks ago he has made two appearances and performed in fine style.

No Sophomore Jinx

New Orleans, La., April 4 (AP)—The Pittsburgh Pirates' Bill Werle is moving into his second season with the Bucs and he doesn't give a hoot about major league baseball's traditional sophomore jinx. Werle says: "I'm not worried about it. I feel I experienced a 'freshman jinx.' Seemed as though every time I was working, the Pirates went on a run famine."

"I feel I know my hitters pretty well now and have a good idea how to pitch to every batter. And another thing, it looks as though we might score more runs this season and that is a big help in beating any kind of a jinx."

KELLOGG HEIR DIES

Chula Vista, Calif., April 4 (AP)—John L. Kellogg, 66, heir to a cereal fortune, died here yesterday of a cerebral hemorrhage. He was visiting a brother, Dr. Carl Kellogg, his father, William K. Kellogg, Palm Springs, said burial would be in Battle Creek, Mich.

SCHOOL BALL LOOP TO OPEN

The Adams County Scholastic Baseball league will swing into action this week with East Berlin and Littlestown getting the jump on other teams by playing their game Wednesday at 4 p. m. at Littlestown. Games originally listed for Friday have been moved up to Thursday due to the Good Friday holiday. On Thursday Boiling Springs will play at Biglerville and York Springs will play at Newville. York Springs draws a bye this week.

East Berlin high, listed to meet Hanover today in an exhibition game, is the defending champion.

PGA Fires Schreiner As Bureau Manager

Chicago, April 4 (AP)—The Professional Golf Association awaited today the aftermath of its firing of George Schreiner as tournament bureau manager. Open revolt of headline golfers from the parent organization may follow in the wake.

Schreiner came to Chicago yesterday as a player-representative to meet with PGA officials including Joe Novak, president; Horton Smith, secretary; Tom Crane, executive secretary; Harry Moffitt, of Toledo, treasurer, and several members of the advisory tournament sponsors' group.

Schreiner was fired outright at the close of the session, reportedly because he negotiated the signing of contracts for the summer tourney tour without complete PGA authorization. Officials said he was given a chance to resign. But apparently Schreiner, a playing pro from Utah who was named bureau manager in 1946 succeeding Freddie Corcoran, stood his ground until being ousted without reservation.

U.S. PAYROLL IS TARGET FOR GOP

Washington, April 4 (AP)—The government payroll, carrying an estimated 2,000,000 names, shaped up today as the main target of a Republican budget-cutting drive in the House.

Approximately $7,000,000,000 in an omnibus $29,045,030,164 appropriation bill now before the House represents payroll costs, according to Republicans. They say it can be cut about $1,000,000,000.

Rep. Taber of New York, leader of the House Republican "economy bloc," disclosed the GOP goal yesterday as the House opened debate on the big bill financing more than 40 federal agencies for the fiscal year 1951, which begins July 1.

Reductions in personnel are only one of his objectives, Taber said, for he argued the bill is "too liberal" and can stand cuts throughout.

Some Republicans are backing an amendment that would order a 10 per cent reduction in planned government personnel strength for the new fiscal year.

Although the House appropriations committee already has lopped $1,567,000,000 from the totals requested by the President, Taber said committee reductions "have not been as deep as I'd like to see and they haven't been as general as I'd like to see."

EMPLOYMENT UP

Washington, April 4 (AP)—The nation's unemployment situation is showing improvement after sinking to its worst condition in eight years. New Census Bureau figures show 561,000 fewer jobless in March than in February. The March total was 4,123,000 compared with an eight-year high of 4,684,000 in February.

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON JR.

New York, April 4 (AP)—Frank Sances, the Arizona U. baseball coach who registered a formal beef about the Pirates and Giants scouts, left college himself after one year to play ball. . . . So he knows something about what happens to a kid who takes that step. . . . Frank says he'll welcome any scouts who make themselves known and don't try to take his boys out of school before they have a shot at the college world series next June. . . . Washington State college almost had to call off its recent indoor track meet because of rain. Seems the roof leaked so badly the track was all mud. . . . The Indians are planning a "day" for Luke Easter in Cleveland this summer and appropriately, it will probably be a Sunday. . . . Best press agent gag of the spring is a photo of John Ford, who threw 25 touchdown passes for Hardin-Simmons last fall, surrounded by a batch of pie plates representing flying saucers.

HOUSE AFFIRE

Frank House, Detroit's $75,000 bonus catcher, was going after a high foul in an exhibition at Bradenton, Fla., the other day. . . . When he failed to reach it, a Braves' bench jockey shouted: "Take that 75 grand out of your pocket and you'll be able to move faster." . . . There's no record of Frank's reply, but the report says the direction of the wind changed before he finished.

OBSERVATION POST

The College Boxing Rules committee, which has worked up a pretty good show and fair evidence that nobody gets hurt, now is considering more rules changes so that the force of blows won't. Similarly they may eliminate the knockout and TKO and judge a bout that is stopped on the points scored up to that time, so the loser may have a chance to win. . . . Next thing they'll be stopping the bout, like a fencing match, every few seconds to decide whether somebody was touched. . . . and the kids who really like to box will be moving over to the Golden Gloves.

Today's Talk

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS
BRAVE HOPEFULNESS

From the cradle to the grave we are each beset with problems, and it is the manner of our facing, and handling them, that measures out how our lives are to be appraised.

I have a little book, which is the publication of an address that William James gave before the Y.M.C.A. of Harvard University in 1895. In closing he quoted from his friend William Salter of the Philadelphia Ethical Society, who said: "As the essence of courage is to stake one's life on a possibility, so the essence of faith is to believe that the possibility exists."

Then James closed with these words: "Be not afraid of life. Believe that life is worth living, and your belief will help create the fact." We ought to live under the very shadow of a brave hopefulness. It is during troublesome times that our greatest literature is created. In the midst of the American Revolution it was Tom Paine who exclaimed: "These are times that try men's souls!" They were. But a brave hopefulness was triumphant.

The decision to live on, no matter how black the prospect may be, is the heritage of an honor that we owe not alone to ourselves, but to all the world. It is when we seem least important that the burden of responsibility rests heaviest upon us. It is then that a brave hopefulness, centered in an unalterable faith, should take possession of us and guide us on.

Upon the higher faculties within us do lean the heaviest when dire distress arrives. It is then that they are called into action, reserves to lift us up and lead us through to a successful consummation of effort. How important is belief in one's self. How potent is individual faith.

What we make out of life is our definition of life. After all, we are our own architects, no matter how many ideas we may gain from others. Within us, like hidden springs, are all the joys and hopes of our nature. Tap them bravely and they gush into life. In gaiety of spirit, let us celebrate life!

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "My Hat."

Just Folks

By EDGAR A. GUEST

WHY?
Are you bothered to reply
When the children question: "Why?"
When they come with "Why?" to you
Don't you often wish you knew?

Such a little word is "Why?"
Yet within it mysteries lie.
From a child's first lisping word
To life's closing it is heard.

Every bit of wisdom learned,
Every forward step was earned
By some genius moved to try
To discover reasons "why."

Still, as children we remain
Often asking "Why?" in vain.
In our grief we question "Why?"
None with wisdom to reply.

MILLION DOLLAR FIRE

Wilmington, Del., April 4 (AP)—A wind-whipped blaze swept through a Wilmington lumber yard and burned into 18 nearby homes on Sunday, leaving in its wake damage estimated at $1,000,000. The fire roared out of control as every available fireman in northern Delaware rushed to the scene, as well as units from Pennsylvania. One death and eight injuries was the known human toll. Officials placed a tentative estimate of $1,000,000 damage on the conflagration.

PAGE STOLEN FROM BIBLE OF BETSY ROSS

Philadelphia, April 4 (AP)—A page from the Betsy Ross Bible, stolen from the historic flag house, was recovered today.

Theft of the page, bearing original records of the Betsy Ross family, was reported yesterday. But police disclosed that actually it was stolen last Christmas by a 15-year-old high school student.

Detective Lieutenant Frank May said the boy disclosed the theft after it was made public.

Philadelphia, April 4 (AP)—Somebody has stolen a page from Betsy Ross' Bible.

Vexil D. Weisgerber, curator of the Betsy Ross House, reported to police yesterday the page bearing original records of the Betsy Ross family, was torn from the Bible, apparently during Sunday visiting hours.

It is the second time this particular page has been missing. The curator said records show that the same page was "lost" from 1853 to 1897. After it was recovered the Bible was rebound to fit the page into its proper place.

Little Monetary Value
The Bible was displayed in a glass case in the house where Betsy Ross made the first U. S. flag under commission by the continental congress.

To reach the Bible, Weisgerber said, it was necessary to remove several screws from a brass edging. The glass in the case had been cracked, he added.

On the page were listed the births, marriages and other data concerning the seven children of Betsy Ross, written by her husband, John Claypole.

Weisgerber said the page had great historic value, but would be difficult to sell and therefore would have little monetary value. The page, measuring about 10 by 12 inches, was removed from the middle of the Bible.

Seal Catchers Ask Civil Service Status

Washington, April 4 (AP)—The 300-seal-catching Aleuts of Alaska's Pribilof islands want to be civil service employees instead of government wards.

The Interior Department, which administers their work, approves of the idea—in general terms, at least. It asked the Civil Service Commission for a ruling.

The Pribilof islands are the summer-time home of about 80 percent of the world's fur seals. In 1910 the U. S. government took over management of the herds, then growing scarce. Under its control the seals have increased; the Pribilof natives have been conducting the annual harvest.

A Civil Service Commission spokesman said that agency always has looked upon the natives as wards of the government, not civil service employees. He said the question now is being re-examined.

REWARD OFFER BRINGS "TIPS"

Philadelphia, April 4 (AP)—The hunt for a missing Bryn Mawr college junior continued today—but state police had nothing new to report.

Maj. William P. Hoffman, in command of the hunt, said a number of persons reported seeing 18-year-old Gertrude Nauman. But every "tip" proved to be a dud.

Miss Nauman disappeared March 24 while believed en route from the college to her Harrisburg home for a 16-day vacation.

Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Spencer G. Nauman, yesterday offered a $5,000 reward for information leading to her return. The reward prompted a flood of "tips."

Major Hoffman said one tip "looked good" for a while yesterday but after a trooper spends hours checking it turned out to be as valueless as the other.

"The girl it involved was five feet tall and 105 pounds," he said. "The girl we are looking for is five feet eight and between 130 and 140 pounds. The girl of the tip was a brunette. We are looking for a medium blonde."

T. Leach donated "Gentian Hill" by Elizabeth Goudge to the branch library. Lesbia K. Crouse donated the following books to the library: "Liberty Street," I. V. Morris; "Summer Stranger," Louise Field Cooper; "Bright Arrows," Grace Livingston Hill; "Panama Passage," Donald Barr Chidsey; "Come A Cavalier," Frances Parkinson Keyes; "Our Own Kind," Edward McSorley; "Winter Meeting," Ethel Vance; "Three O'Clock Dinner," Josephine Puckner; "The Lonely Carrot," Manmuk Walker; "The Townsman," John Sedges; "A World to Win," Upton Sinclair; "Elizabeth, Captive Princess," Margaret Irwin; "The Big Secret," Merle Colby; "The Yellow Room," Mary Roberts Rinehart; "In A Dark Garden," Frank G. Slaughter; "Home Port," Olive Higgins Prouty; "Simone," Lion Feuchtwanger; "The Tin Flute," Gabrielle Roy; "Kate Fenmiger," Booth Tarkington; "The Gauntlet," James Street; and "The American," Howard Fast.

VINSON CALLS FOR MORE FUNDS FOR WARPLANES

Washington, April 4 (AP)—The chairman of the House Armed Services committee called on Congress today to vote $583,289,211 for more warplanes to help meet the threat of an "atomic blitz."

Protesting that the administration's $13,911,127,000 military program "will wither American air power on the vine," Rep. Vinson (D-Ga.) urged instead that air strength be boosted promptly.

Vinson said in a speech prepared for House delivery that the President's budget for the fiscal year beginning in July does not assure adequate defense at a time when "the atomic blitz of tomorrow is a real, a genuine possibility." He added:

"It is universally known today that Russia is building the largest air force in the world. What are they building it for? They are building it for use whenever their carefully-timed Pearl Harbor day comes around."

Previously Vinson has said he expects to sponsor several amendments to the bill authorizing military spending for the year beginning next July 1. In his speech, however, he brought up only the proposal for

"RED" WAR ON RELIGION BEING "STEPPED UP"

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
(AP Foreign Affairs Analyst)

The Red war against religion is being stepped up in Eastern Europe. We return to this subject because it is a vital aspect of the Soviet crusade to communize the world. Success or failure of the communist offensive may hinge largely on this point.

Ten high-ranking Catholic clergymen have gone on trial in Prague, charged with high treason and spying for the Vatican. A Vatican informant in Rome says this indicates that the last of the faithful Roman Catholic leaders in Czechoslovakia "are about to be suppressed."

No Way To Compel

This comes as the International Court of Justice at The Hague rules in effect that three other satellites—Hungary, Romania and Bulgaria—must appear before the bar of justice in the United Nations and answer charges of violating the human rights provisions of their peace treaties. These charges were brought by America and Britain, and were based on the trial of Cardinal Mindszenty in Hungary and the trials of other high churchmen in Romania and Bulgaria.

Of course there will be no method of compelling the three satellites to answer the charges, and they may refuse to comply. However, The Hague decision will help focus world attention on the anti-religious activities in Soviet dominated areas.

These activities were graphically summed up by Attorney General J. Howard McGrath the other night in a speech at New York. He declared that "in the world behind the iron curtain a death struggle is being waged against belief in God in any form." He added that "Christians, Jews and Mohammedans alike are persecuted for their belief in the omnipotence of the Almighty and His teachings x x x."

Hitler Stole the Idea

Why this drive against religion? It's essential that we know the answer to that because atheism is one of the cardinal tenets of communism.

The Red km cannot tolerate religion because the latter condemns the sweeping violations of human rights upon which communism is building.

There is no longer any doubt that communism is out to kill all religion. Hitler undertook the same task and for the same reason—religion interfered with his schemes. He presumably stole the idea from communism.

IF YOU'RE PALE AS A GHOST!!

When your skin has a pallor (sallow complexion) with that faded-out look, or your nerves are jaded and you have that "all-in" feeling, it is usually due to one thing, that is:

BLOOD POVERTY

Your blood cells may be fagged-out or shrunken, and you might not realize it. Even if you eat the "best" foods you may not be getting all the good out of your meals simply because you have SLOW Digestion, without knowing it (or fatty stomach) and as a result you are a victim of Blood Poverty! In other words, your blood is not getting the fullest good out of what you eat. So your blood-cells become worn-down and you have only half as much energy as you really need, you get up in the mornings still tired, and your nerves become dull.

Hundreds here in Gettysburg suffered with "faded-out" blood and stomach gas until they got CERTA-VIN. This is the new medicine containing 12 Herbs blended with Vitamin B and Iron; you take it before meals and it works with your food. Benefit comes quickly. Your food digests FASTER, with less gasiness, and you get more good out of your meals. In a few days your blood is energized with new red cells and your nerves become stronger. Weak, rundown people tell us they soon feel different all over. And best of all, our price on CERTA-VIN is reasonable. You can actually take this New, modern medicine for only a Few Cents a Day! So don't go on feeling half-sick and half-well. Get CertA-Vin — PEOPLES DRUG STORE, 25 Baltimore Street.

ALPHA FIREMEN ANSWER ALARM

Alpha Fire Company No. 1 responded with two trucks to an alarm of fire from Joseph Spiridonof, who resides in Union township on the Pine Grove school house road about a mile and half south of the ridge-way service station, about 2:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon. A small building about 50 feet to the rear of the house, used as a rabbit pen was completely destroyed, although all the rabbits were saved. A member of the family was burning rubbish. Thinking the fire completely out, they left for the house, only to find the rubbish still burning, which immediately ignited the grass. The grass fire spread to the rabbit pen, which was soon a mass of flames. The blaze was extinguished with water

Holy Saturday services will begin about 6 a. m. when the annual Blessing of the Easter Water and Easter Fire will be conferred before mass which begins about 7:45 a. m. Confessions will be heard at the usual time on Saturday afternoon and evening, but parishioners who are able to do so are requested to take advantage of previous opportunities given for confession throughout Holy Week. The 7:30 mass Easter morning will be a high mass sung by the regular choir, and will be followed by a low mass at 10:15 a. m.

INDIA, PAKISTAN SEEKING PEACE AT NEW DELHI

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
(AP Foreign Affairs Analyst)

The conference in New Delhi between the prime ministers of India and Pakistan, over the bitter differences between these new sister nations, is a matter of moment not only to them, but to you and me.

The one bright spot in this meeting is that it seeks to bring peace out of embittered relations which have forced the two states to the verge of hostilities.

Way involving the more than 400,000,000 people of the Indian peninsula (over one-sixth of the world's population) might precipitate another global upheaval. Certainly it could have a tremendous effect on the outcome of the swelling contest between communism and democracy in southeast Asia.

Close To All of Us
So this meeting between Prime Ministers Nehru of India and Ali Khan of Pakistan is close to all of us.

The differences between the two nations are deep-seated—religious (Hindu versus Moslem) and economic. The separation of the sub-continent into two rival nations has made an unequal division of economic resources.

This would have been bad enough under all circumstances, but unfortunately when the separation was effected many Moslems were left in Hindu territory and vice versa. This has resulted in grave communal disorders, especially in Bengal.

Dispute Over Kashmir

Another big item in the catalogue of differences is the dispute over possession of the great state of Kashmir, which is one of the world's beauty spots. This state, which is largely inhabited by Moslems, was ruled over by a Hindu maharajah.

When the nations of Pakistan and India were created the maharajah wanted to join India, whereas his Moslem subjects asked for Pakistan. This position has almost resulted in war, and has been so bitter that the United Nations thus far has failed to find a solution, although the search continues.

That's the tangled skein which the two premieres seek to unravel. Their first problem concerned the Moslem-Hindu fighting amidst the mixed populations of the Bengal provinces. This has resulted in heavy loss of life and property in recent months.

Desire For Peace

Literally hundreds of thousands of Hindus have fled from Pakistan territory into India. And hundreds of thousands of Moslems have fled India into Pakistan.

Gandhi, the peace maker, no longer lives to exercise his almost hypnotic influence over the Indian masses. Still, one of his closest followers was Nehru, and the fact that Li-quat Ali Khan has journeyed into the camp of his friend the enemy shows a desire for peace on both sides.

More power to them!

No Discrimination In Penna., Says Duff

Harrisburg, April 4 (AP)—Pennsylvania's anti-discrimination laws will be enforced everywhere "whether the communities like it or not," Gov. James H. Duff declared late yesterday.

The governor spoke in answer to a report delivered to him by 70 student leaders that civil rights were being denied negro students attending Lincoln university by nearby public establishments in Oxford, Chester county.

The law is on the books," Duff told the delegation, "there will be no buck passing. I will make a public endeavor to see that this law is enforced."

Meanwhile a Chester county grand jury failed to indict owners of a hotel coffee shop and a theater in Oxford on discrimination charges. The action was started by the Lincoln chapter of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

Emigsville, Pa., April 4 (AP)—A $600,000 fire swept the American Acme Corporation plant here, destroying a warehouse and a paint finishing shop. Nine York county fire companies fought the blaze Saturday night which threatened for a time to spread to the main plant. The warehouse was filled with toys and lawn furniture being readied for movement to markets.

The Ptomaine Canary

Chapter 8

Synopsis: Brunhilde Wagner, the great Met soprano, and her husband-manager, Bill Wagner, are entertaining the nation's top detective story writers at their apartment. Met conductor Otto Furst, whom Brunhilde dislikes, and his former wife, Lily, are also guests. Brunhilde, a great mystery-story fan, confesses to the writers that she too has written a thriller. Then she shows off her pet canary's trick, leaving a bird-seed on the lip of each guest. Otto, on receiving his, becomes violently ill and staggers from the room. Within a few minutes Brunhilde has escorted each writer quietly to an apartment on the floor above, where one by one they pass out and collapse on the floor. After she returns to the apartment, Bill takes the poodle, Zita, for a walk—and hears Brunhilde's record-breaking scream—F above high C—when she finds Otto's dead body. He races back to the apartment.

"Police!" It was a deathless gasp. "Must we call the police?" "Of course," said Bill. There was a mute appeal in her eyes. "Couldn't we well just sort of get rid of him?" "Nonsense. He wouldn't fit down the incinerator anyway. Besides, he'd be missed. Otto's a famous man."

"He'd be twice as famous tomorrow," Brunhilde murmured irreverently and irrelevantly. A sudden thought brought her hand up to her mouth and she spoke between her fingers. "Bill, they'll suspect me. We've been having such terrible fights."

"I know." His face was grim. "But you didn't kill him, so we have nothing to worry about." His voice lacked conviction. "Come away from here, darling. He's not a very pretty sight."

"He didn't look any better to me when he was alive."

"That's not the point." He led her toward the bedroom, heading for the telephone on the night table. Detective-Lieutenant Sam Quentin of Homicide was a tall, purposeful man with penetrating blue eyes, a resolute mouth, and a challenging jaw, somewhat like the prow of a battleship. His manner, however, was mild, and his voice surprisingly soft.

His first step, upon arrival, accompanied by a battery of city employees, was to view the corpse at close quarters. He sniffed and straightened and made his first deduction.

"Smells like bitter almonds," he said. "Must be cyanide."

After that he put his benchmen to work, dusting with fingerprint powder, exploding flashbulbs, making chalk marks and chemical analysis of the various edibles and liquids still remaining.

While all this was taking place he got the facts of the party from Bill Wagner. His eyes went up, appealing to the heavens.

"Mystery writers, yet. So many of them. Guys who spend their lives cooking up murder brews nobody could solve but a genius." He called to a plainclothesman. "Rollo, take these names."

When the roll of guests had been called and inscribed in the detective's notebook he was told to work on the phone and get them all back to the apartment at once.

Lieutenant Quentin went over to inspect the canary. Galli-Curci sang to him. He turned away finally, looking frustrated.

"Furst ate the same food as the others?" he asked.

"That's right," Bill said.

"He drank the same liquor and ate seed out of the same box?"

"Yes, sir."

"He was a close friend of yours?"

"Of my husband's," Brunhilde said. "I didn't like him."

"You didn't?" His eyebrows were up.

"Not a bit."

"Why?"

She shrugged. "Artistic temperament."

He chased the scent but was unable to pin her down, pausing when one of the lab men came over.

"No trace of cyanide, Lieutenant."

"You checked everything, the glasses, the liquor, the food plates, the birdseed?"

"Yes, sir."

"Okay. Call the medical examiner and tell him I want an autopsy tonight. If they're open—"

He stopped as Detective Rollo came back in high state of excitement, resting wildly.

"Listen, Lieutenant—" Rollo was overcome.

"Go ahead, spill it."

"Those authors, none of them, not a single one ever got home."

"Huh?"

"That's right, sir. They're missing."

The Lieutenant catapulted to his feet. "Holy smoke! Maybe they all dropped dead on the street. Call headquarters. Call the Commissioner. Call the Sanitation Department."

He slumped back into his chair.

Bill Wagner stood motionless, his mouth open. Brunhilde gave him a sickly smile. She was about to speak when there was a sudden commotion and Lily Furst came sailing into the apartment.

"I was told to come right over, darling. What happened? Who are all these men?"

Bill cleared his throat and gave it straight. "Otto died."

"Yes, that's—" Suddenly she looked stunned. "What did you say?"

"Otto is dead. He was poisoned. Lieutenant, this is Mrs. Furst."

Quentin discarded the amenities. "How come you left here and went home without your husband, Mrs. Furst?"

"The ex-Mrs. Furst," she informed him. "We were divorced last week."

"Oh!" He seemed disappointed at the evaporation of a possible motive. "On what grounds?"

"The usual. Infidelity."

"Ah, then he must have had a lady friend."

"He did, at least twenty of them. Hero worship, I suppose."

"Lieutenant," broke in Detective Rollo's agitated voice. He had just come through the door with a uniformed building attendant in tow. "Get a load of this, Lieutenant. Here's the elevator operator. Brother, we really got a case here that—"

"All right, all right."

Rollo gulped. "He said he never took any of those authors down, and he never saw any of them leave the building."

This extraordinary intelligence caught the Lieutenant totally unprepared. His chin hung on his tie-knot. He shook his head like a boxer who has just had one bounce off his ear.

"Ridiculous," he exploded. "A gang of famous men can't vanish, just go up in thin air. He looked at the operator. 'Were you on duty all evening?'"

"Ever since ten o'clock, sir."

"Could they have left while you were in the car between floors?"

"No, sir. I keep the front door locked at night and open it only to let people in or out."

"Hold it," Bill Wagner growled. "Somebody's lying. I saw those people leave this apartment with my own eyes, and I saw my wife take them to the door."

"How now, the plot is getting thicker, almost sticky. Brunhilde sure is in a mess. Can she squeak out of it? Are they going to find the missing authors? Who on earth killed Otto Furst? Don't fail to read this magnificent denouement in this fantastic tale, authored by Helen Traubel who knows more about the working of a Wagnerian soprano mind than any other living first-novelist."

Camden, N. J., April 4 (AP)—Frank LaSalle entered a surprise plea of guilty Monday to a charge of kidnapping 13-year-old Sally Horner and was sent to jail for a term of from 30 to 35 years.

LaSalle, an unemployed auto mechanic, was arrested in San Jose, Calif., March 21 after Sally telephoned her relatives in New Jersey and asked them to "send the FBI for me, please."

LaSalle's attorney, John J. Connelley, said he would fight the plea.

Horner was last seen in the company of LaSalle in the city of Camden.

CONFIRM NINE IN EAST BERLIN

The first candlelight service in the history of the church

Lin's Trinity Lutheran church took place on Palm Sunday evening there when nine young people of the congregation were received into full membership in the presence of other members, parents, relatives and friends.

In charge of the service was the Rev. Lester J. Karschner, who has been pastor of the church since July.

The new members are part of a large catechetical class that has been undergoing weekly instruction throughout the winter. They were robed in uniform "gowns" for the ceremony.

The class consisted of Peggy Joanna Mummert, Shirley Ann Burgard, Shirley Spangler, Ada Mae Mummert, Nancy Lou Jacobs, Gloria Snyder, Louise Marie Boyer, Robert Boyer and John Jacobs.

Another group of young people of the East Berlin area will be confirmed into membership of the Evangelical and Reformed church, of which the Rev. Alton M. Leister is pastor, at services during the Easter-tide.

LINKS POLITICS WITH FATAL FIRE

Philadelphia, April 4 (AP)—A fire marshal has charged he was cautioned by "certain political figures" to keep silent about fire hazards he found two months ago at the Belle Vista sanatorium where a blaze last Wednesday cost the lives of 10 patients.

Reves H. Dengler, fire marshal for Springfield township, said Sunday he was cautioned by certain political figures "to be quiet" in the findings of an inspection he made at the institution on January 29.

The fire marshal said his investigation disclosed many fire hazards at the private hospital where 10 patients lost their lives and 60 others were injured in a fire March 29. Dengler did not identify the politician.

After his inspection Dengler said he wrote to the Department of Welfare recommending action be taken against the institution.

William L. Brown, state secretary of Welfare, said yesterday Dengler's letter was not brought to his attention if it arrived at his office in Harrisburg. "Had it been called to my attention," Brown said, "the department would have taken action in the matter immediately."

Brown said he will direct Sgt. Charles Taylor, of the state police, and George Jennings, special investigator for the Welfare department, to obtain any evidence Dengler holds.

20 HURT WHEN TRAINS CRASH

Mauch Chunk, Pa., April 4 (AP)—Twenty persons were slightly injured on Sunday in the collision of two Lehigh Valley railroad trains.

The crash occurred when a one-car local shuttle train struck the rear of a passenger train which had stopped on a curve a short distance east of Mauch Chunk.

Many of those on the passenger train, the Black Diamond enroute from New York city to Buffalo, were Cornell university students returning to classes.

The gasoline powered engine of the shuttle train burst into flames but the fire was extinguished before it reached any of the passenger cars.

Foreign Submarines Likely Off Coast

San Francisco, April 4 (AP)—The navy says foreign submarines "very probably" have been operating off the California coast.

A four-day search by surface and air craft produced only "inconclusive" results. But there wasn't much that could have been done about it since the strange submarines were in international waters.

Capt. J. A. Holbrook, commander of the destroyer Colahan, returned yesterday from the search and reported having made contact twice through radar and sonar with objects he believed were submarines. Captain Holbrook is a former submarine officer.

IS NOT ASKING DEATH PENALTY

Allentown, Pa., April 4 (AP)—Harold Mohr was summoned to stand trial today in the mercy slaying of his blind, cancer-ravaged brother—assured the commonwealth will not seek the death penalty.

Shortly after the 36-year-old tannery worker was indicted yesterday on murder and voluntary manslaughter charges in the slaying of his brother, Walter, 55, District Attorney Kenneth H. Koch of Lehigh county announced:

"I do not feel the facts warrant pressing for the death penalty."

Although he entered a "not guilty" plea before the grand jury, Harold Mohr has signed a statement he shot his brother through the head with a deer rifle in their home at nearby Coplay on March 3.

Dr. George S. Boyer, Lehigh county coroner, said Walter Mohr was hopelessly blind and that cancer had wasted away his face until "only the man's lips remained."

Defense Attorney Harry Creveling said he would base his case on the mercy aspects of the killing. In his statement, Harold Mohr said he shot Walter after the brother repeatedly had begged for death.

port, Rear Admiral R. I. Entwistle, vice commander of the western sea frontier, said the contacts made "very probably" were one or more foreign submarines on routine peacetime patrols.

OK 14 BUILDINGS FOR PENN STATE

Harrisburg, April 4 (AP)—The general state authority today approved an $8,000,000 building program at the Pennsylvania State College, including construction of 14 new buildings.

The authority at the same time earmarked another $382,000 for purchase of equipment for the newly constructed plant industries and mineral sciences buildings.

Both buildings have been standing idle since November for lack of furnishings, the authority said.

Although the college originally asked for construction projects, totaling $15,000,000, these were subsequently pared down to the $8,000,000 figure.

In approving the building program for the college, the authority gave precedence to structures which it said would augment the college's facilities for research and training in agriculture and mechanical engineering.

The building projects approved and estimated costs: Two new wings to the mechanical engineering building, $1,162,000; laboratory, workroom and greenhouses for agricultural research, $294,000; addition to the physical education building, $1,108,000; completion of Buckhout (biological) laboratory, $758,000; completion of the Burrows (education) building, $1,275,000.

Addition to the main library, $1,408,000; chemistry storage building, $123,000; chemistry laboratory building, $1,357,000; addition to the Pond (chemistry) laboratory, $67,000; completion of fourth floor of the main engineering building, $157,000; modernization of two 20-year-old boilers in the college's heating plant, $128,000; extension of steam lines to new buildings, $32,000; extension of electrical distribution lines, $58,000; and enlargement of sewer lines, $39,000.
